DR. MOTT'S CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic proparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion of Hydrogen. Sauctioned by the highest, Medical Authorities, both in Europe.

and the United States, and prescribed in their practice.
The experience of thousands daily proves their practics.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in aimost every conceivable case. Innxolous in all maladies in which it has been tried, it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

In Debility, Nervous Affections, Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Constipution, Diapthony, Resemblers, Tochicias, Liver Complaints, Chronic Headaches, Rheumatism, Intermittent Fevers, Pimples on the Face, &c.

In cases of General Debility, whether the result of caute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this rectorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids solong bed ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly re-appeared in the busy world as if just returned from protracted travel in a distant land.—Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female Sufferers, emacinted victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nerrous and dyspeptic a version to alt and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In Nervous Affections of all kinds, and cation of nerrous and dyspeptic a rersion to all and exercise for which the physician han on ame.

In Nervous Affections of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this proparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old axides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and overheating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastrie purgative, or inflicting a disagrecable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Prica, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specification, by dispersing the local tendency which forms them.

In Dyspepsia, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Conticeness.

In unchecked Diarrhona, even when advanced to Dysentery, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects nave been equally decisive and assonishing.

In the local pains, loss officen and stength, debifitating cough, and remittent heetic, which generally indicate Incipient Consumption, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and far more than the good effect of the most rautiously balanced presented for the most rautiously balanced pre-

In Scoolulous Tuberculous, this medicated if on has had far more than the gond offect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of lodge, without any of their well known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remeal and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In Rheamatism, both chronic and in flammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In Intermittent Fevers, it must neces-

In Intermittent Pevers, it must neccasarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects. Good appertite, complete digestion, rarifd acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, imac diately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pilla, price 50 cents per box; for eale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of the pitce. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed R. B. LOCKE & CO, General Agents, ap7 2taw&w

Shortly after daylight one morning, land was seen from the top-gallant yard, afar off. The Captain was rejoiced, for he and the three men with bim were almost worn out with their labors and watchings. The wind being moderate, and the Uaptain sleepy, having been on deck the greater portion of the night, he retired to his state room to seek repose, assuring us with a spiteful grin, that Point Judith was in sight, and we should be soughly deposited in jail be-

My shipmate and myself, soon afterward, relieved ourselves of our handcuffs and crept cautiously into the steerage, and then passed stealthily up the cabin stairs to the quarter deck. The mun at the helm was terrified at the sight of us. With our unshaven faces and uncombed locks we must have looked wild and wicked, as if bent on some desperate deed. We defended ourselves manfully for a time, but at last were knocked down, handcuffed and drugged below icto a sort of balf dock which was entered from the steerage. A couple of ringbolts were driven firmly into the ship's side, to which we were lashed, and ke pt on a short allowance of bread and water. We now had possession of the deck. The Captain was below, asleep in his state room, and one man was in the forecastle, ignorant of the scenes which had been enacted on deck. Horrorstruck at the atrocious acts of which we had been guilty, and shrinking from the command of further crime, I entreated Jack to save the lives of the Usptain and our remaining shipmate. He replied with a demoniac frown, that we had gone too far to look back, that mercy now was out of the question, unless we were willing to swing on a gal-lows—for dead men only tell no tales.

Hensdale threw down a coil of rigging on the quarter deck, directly, over the Captain's state room. The noise as we captains state room. THE PANIC

We alluded yesterday to the panic By a combination last week of polidown, some five per cent. This is some thing of a depreciation, and especially does it appear large, when we reflect that widows and orphans are in part the lowers, and all, -to accomplish a political end.

It is no uncommon occurrence for the friends of freedom and official integrity to be asked, " what makes the panis "? "What pushes down the stocks so "? "What has caused such a fall in the public securities "? And what is lamenpublic securities "? And what is lamentable, is the fact, that the questioners around me carefully, in all my travels, till reached Washington, but could see no spin of despotism; even less of military experts and cadets of West and are very busy sprending the reports concerning its existence, We must ask, of this state of things, where the officers and cadets of West expert the officers and cadets of West expert and some militia on training at Saugerties, bigher up on the Hudson, I saw nothing that could be called military; and officers, redets and military appeared all officers, redets and military appeared and the called military; and concerning its existence. We must ask, if there is any surer way to create a panic, than persistently to circulate rumors of a panie? And if so, why do these parties, circulate such report?

We have previously said that, there was last week, a fall on stocks in Wall Street, of five per cent. This is something of a fall, but yet no larger than what took place last June. Did any of our readers hear of it then? Did any union plan: our readers hear of it then I Did any union pan:

"I now have it in my power to give highly interesting details of the treasonable scheme. These details afford union pan: paign?. Did any of them lear for the season's business, on that account? Oh no! In fact we doubt if there are in Newport twenty-five persons, who knew of it at the time. Why do we know of it now? Why do we hear the changes rung upon the theme to-day? Does not the answer to these questions show the whole design? Does it not show the ticket? Does not the whole transaction proceed upon the supposition that we are cowards, and can be driven into a suare?.

But this panic, its getters up, say, is emised by a prospect of disunion if Lincolu is elected. This, in our opinion, is say those, so ready to report the panic, " if you wish to stop this ovil; yote for Douglas, for Boll, for Breekuridge, for Hon. James B. Clay during the delivery Houston, apy body, against Lincoln, of his late speech for Breckinridge, at Covand that will restore confidence im- ington, Kenucky. Prentice describes the mediately." The absurdity of such re- scene as follows: mediately." The absurdance of make a commendation is enough to make a the election of Lincoln's election produced the panic, of Lincoln's election produced the panic, was then immediately asked if he appare it, that these species have logs and pitched alm headlong into the already railied, that the panic has al-Bulls now carrying sway? And this too when Lincoln's election is more certain, than it was at the time that the fall commenced? "The fools," exclaimed a Douglas voter in New York last Saturday, " they sprung the trap a week too soon." And this is so. Had the panie been held off a week longer its cause and its manufacturers could not have been exposed before the election. But this foolish blunder, has only made the people more indiguant, and drawn off from fusion some of the most solid merchants in New York .-They say, "we want those politicians who are continually tampering with our business to understand, that such a course must stop. That we have had trouble enough of that kind, and must have it no longer.

There is another view of the subject worthy of consideration. Grant that this panic urises from a fear of distinion let the disunion come. Yea, if it is true that the South will remain only on condition of Lincoln's defeat, disunion is already here. If the union has no other object, than to allow five-hundred thousand persons to control all these millions, then let them slide. We ask our citizens, how long shall these threats be heeded? What of manhood is left to us, if we only are to vote as they say? Nay, why vote at all? Is not the ballot hox a mockery, a deceit? Say the Eastern tyrants, you may vote as you please, but if you vote different from my wishes, your head pays the penalty. Say our would be tyrants, if you vote against us, we will destroy the Unionget up a panio stop discount break a band. Do! Why, we will-we willwe doubt what, but something awful we say vote for what we think is right and let the awful come. It is time to stop this rant if it means nothing-these threats if they means something. No more effectual means can be devised, to oheck this getting up of broils—of crushing disunion-of spreading out the conspirators against our country than to elect the Illinois Rail Splitter, and so we say go ahead. And "to say we all all of us."

all of us." WIDE AWAKE POLITICS.

A CHRONIC COMPLAINT .- "The first A CHRONIC COMPLAINT.—"The first gentleman who greeted me on my arrival in the United States," says Horriet Martineau in her book suttled Society in America, "a few minutes af er I had landed, informed me without delay that I had arrived at an unhappy crisis; that the institutions of the country would be in ruins before my return to England; that the leveling spirit was desolating society; and that the United States was on the verge of a military despotism. nothing that could be called military; and officers, cadeis and milita appeared all perfectly innonent of any design to edize upon the government. At Washington I ventured to ask an explanation from one of the most honored statesmen now living, (Henry Clay, we presume,) who told me, with a smile, that the country had been in 'a crisis' for fitty years past, and would be for fitty years to come."

The Washington correspondent of the New York Times writes thus of the distakable proof that the conspirators have no confidence in the sympathy of the masses, even of the Gulf States. Their plan is to betray the south into rebullion, by a repetition of the Lecompton fraud. They dread the consequences of a direct appeal to the people on the question of diamion. To clude this danger, the general convention of the seceding States is to be elected by their several Legislatures, and upon this body full and conclusive powers of dissolving the Union, and of electing Breeking the Union, and of electing Breeking ferred!"

There will be an election, but there will that it is a wicked electioneering dodge.

But for the sake of argument, grant that here ridicule the idea of disunion, and exit had its origin in fear of disunion, what we ask is the remedy for it? "O,"

A BALTIMORE letter says that the uprising of republicanism in that city is both rapid and significant, and adds: "The largest slaveholders of Newcastle and Sussex are fout for him. They have only nine hundred plurality to overcome, and the Douglas men seem anxious to see Lincoln overcome it."

The Richmond Whig, the Haleigh (N. C.) Register, and other, influential Southern journals, charge that the object of the seceders from the Charleston convention was, by breaking up the democratic party, "to dissolve the Union, in order to open the African slave trade, and bring down the value of negroes, that the profits upon cotton might be higher.

Despairing, he started for Cali-iornia—that land of refuge for broken for-tures and wounded hearts. This was in tunes and wounded hearts. This was in the year 1850, when San Francisco was a village; and wanted printers more than at present. The boy quickly became a man there; and embarking in the printing business, soon found his self the proprietor of an establishment from which alrang, in or an esteonisment from which sprang, in-due time, a weekly paper, ere long to be followed by a daily: His journal and his fortunes flourished amazingly, and he re-turned to New York, in 1854, with the avowed purpose of buying a six cylinder press, but with the unavowed purpose of locking up a lovely form to his now golden chases. Aisa for human hopes! The maiden was wedded and the mother of two children. The printer bought his presses and returned to California a sadder, not a wiser man. Years progressed and he prospered. One day a lady visited his aditorial rooms to lay her modest contribution on his table, in hopes of getting some remuneration for it Her story was briefly told; her husband had come to mend his fortunes in the land of gold, and had died, and she was left very poor, with her two children to support.
